TUXEDO3 STILL HEAD THE LIST LOGAN, OGDEN, SALT LAKE AND BY CLOSE MARGIN.

A general all around boost in the avera peg in their standing. The Tuxedos are within a fraction of the one-eighty mark, which is a record seldom reached in any community for a like number of games in team bowling. With the season two-thirds over, the league leaders will probable have little trouble measure the Latter-day Saints university of this city, the Weber Stake academy, the state school for the deaf and bumb and blind of Ogden, the Brigham Young college of Logan, and the Brigham Young the season began.

Some Tall Playing.

Gamble is still high man among those who have a chance to compete for the league prize offered for high average to those who have taken part in three-fourths of the games of the league series. Gamble has bowled all the games since the opening of the season and can boast of an average of over 150 this week, a gain of two points over last week. All the players in the league are now above the 160 mark.

JABEZ WHITE WILLING TO MEET JIMMY BRITT

New York, Jan. 21.—Jabez White is willing to come to this country to fight Jimmy Britt, late in March or early in April, before the Yosemite Athletic club of San Francisco. Charley Mitchell, in behalf of White, asks the club to send him $500 for expenses. White will leave England for this country at once. A dispatch to this effect was received this morning by Tom O'Rourke, who at once notified Jimmy Coffroth, the matchmaker of the Yosemite Athletic club.

While White is being persistently "Rnocked" by men who never saw him fight. Referee Charley White, who saw the English lightweight battle with Spike Sullivan in London during Coronation week, in June, 1902, thinks the Englishman has an excellent chance with any man in the present lightweight-division.

When this provision was 1 of this year. When this provision was under consideration no reference what-ever was made to alleged frauds on the Uintah reservation. Charges in regard to preferred claims of several mining companies on this reservation were thoroughly examined a year ago, when this legislation was first consid-

Based on that examination several concessions were made to prevent opposition to opening the reservation. Nothing new has developed since that time. No further question has been raised as to the rights of these com-

The players who have not are Christy Mathewson, Mike Donlin, Red Ames and George Wiltse. The latter two players are expected to send in their papers within the next few days, as it is learned they are satisfied with the salary which Manager McGraw has offered them for next season. Mathewson and Donlin, on the other hand, want more money, and that is the reason why they are holding off until the last minute before putting their names to the contracts. Both Donlin and Mathewson will in all probability get to the contracts. Both Donlin and Mathewson will in all probability get their increase.

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 21.-A football bill has been introduced in the state legislature of South Dakota by Senator Lightner which, if passed, will effectually put an end to the college sport in that state.

that state.

The bill, as prepared, consists of four sections, of which the first two aim to govern the manner of playing and provide penalties for violations of the game, and the third and fourth provide for state jurisdiction in the enforcement of the college rules regarding professionalism and semi-professionalism. Violations are to be regarded as misdemeanors, if the measure becomes a law, and are to be punishable by fines, varying in amount from $100 to $10. varying in amount from $100 to $10. Coaches and professors are made equally responsible with the student, and may be fined for the player's offense. The first section of the bill, which is carefully worded, constitutes a mease which would hamper the game to extent that would make anything like a representative college team an impossibility. It reads:

"Any player in any game of football in South Dakota, whether playing for practice or in a match game, who shall injure another player, either intentionally or by accident, shall instantly be suspended from playing in that game, and shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $50 nor less than $10 and the costs.

The most important run of the day, however, was the fifteen miles made by E. R. Thomas, driving his ninety-horsepower Mercedes in nine and one-quarter minutes, an average of thirtyseven seconds. This is unprecedented as it sustained speed for a quarter of an hour at the rate of the best unofficial mile ever made on the beach. It should be borne in mind, too, that there was little wind favoring the cars, the northern gale of the last three days having abated.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—The Lissak handicap was won by Elliott, coupled in the betting with the many-time Derby winner Claude, at 7 to 2. The bulk of the money went in on Letola, Skinner's entry, and Military Man. The field was not long at the post and the barrier was sprung to a good start. W. R. Condon, the added starter, and Letola opened up a big gap and both horses suffered from the heartrending pace. When it came to the finish they had to be content with third and had to be content with third and fourth positions respectively. Elliott, on whom Alarie rode a perfect race, came out of the bunch at the head of the stretch and won going away by half a length. Claude, notwithstanding the heavy impost of 135 pounds, was running over the horses at the finish, getting second position from W. R. Condon. Weather cloudy, track sloppy. IT IS JOHNNIE CHAPMAN TO THE GOLD FIELDS

Johnnie Chapman, the well known local bicycle rider, in company with C. V. Gilmer, leaves for Tonopah and Goldfield today, where they expect to main for some time. Chapman says he intends to try hunting for nuggets in the gold fields as a new way to get in shape for the summer's racing. While many athletes hunt for wild animals as a mode of training. Chapman says he prefers to look for the large chunks of bright yellow metal. If successful to the extent of several wagon loads, Johnnie says, he will build himself a half-dozen bicycle tracks and hire all the racing men in the country to ride, "just to see the wheels go round."

Opposes Bill Creating Game Reserves Within Forest Reserves. (Special to The Herald.)

(Special to The Herald.)
Washington, Jan. 21.—Representative Mondell today filed a dissenting report on the bill creating game preserves within forest reservation. He opposed the bill on the ground that it takes from the states their constitutional rights to control fish and game within their borders and transfers this authority to the secretary of the interior. He says the bill is a dangerous departure from the established policy of the government which has been not to interfere with the constitutional rights of the people of the various states. He declares that the bill after being enacted into law would be made states. He declares that the bill after being enacted into law would be made applicable to the entire forest reserve area, thereby materially infringing upon state game laws. He furthermore questions the constitutionality of the pending bill. Enforcement of such a law, he says, would be tyrannical and unfair. In conclusion he denies that such legislation is necessary for the protection of game, insisting that state protection of game, insisting that state game laws are adequate.

to Nelson and Young Corbett as possible.

Nelson has returned from his hunting trip, and looks stronger and better than he ever did in his life. The first thing he did was to deposit $5,000 in cash with Harry Corbett for a side bet with Britt, but the native son put him off with the statement that he wanted to meet White first. Corbett also tried the $5,000 side bet proposition, but Britt wants none of his game.

As a matter of fact, White is a dead one if there ever was one. There are some dozen lightweights in America to-day who could easily put the Englishman to the bad, and no one knows this better than Britt. It is for this reason that the native son wants the match, and it will probably be arranged in time, and Nelson and Corbett will be given the go-by. Britt may convince the coast fight fans that he is a champion by using these tactics, but the greater part of the American public desires something ar robbery from Corbett and a questionable decision over Nelson to cinch a champlonship title.

Little Fighters Next.

Little Fighters Next. Little Fighters Next.

One week from next Tuesday Frankie Neil and Dick Hyland will get together in the ring at San Francisco. This is the next big fight on the coast and,
while it promises to be a great battle,
it is not attracting as much attention as the other recent big mills out that way. The fight will settle the question, of the bantamweight championship of America, but as there are a comparatively few fighters in the class one does not hear as much about them as in the heavier weights. Neil is picked as a winner by the coast fans because of his experience in the ring. Hyland will enter the ring for the first time as a professional but has a great record as an amateur fighter.

Wrestling Not Parlor Magic.

Biddy Bishop After Flynn.

Jim Flynn has sent word to Biddy Bishop that he would accept a match with Billy Woods, providing Bishop would agree to bet $500 on the side and let the winner take the whole purse. Bishop has sent his reply that he would be agreeable to betting $500, but he wanted to see Flynn's money up, and he has suggested that Flynn send his money on to Harry Corbett, and it would be duly covered. Bishop now has a forfeit of $500 in Corbett's hands which he posted when he challenged Sullivan and Flynn, and he says if Flynn will send on his money he will see that it is covered. If the match is made, it will take place at San Diego next month. The club has offered the men a big guaranteed purse, and all that now remains is for the men to put up their money and sign the articles. The match will be fought at 150 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Fight a Hundred Years Ago.

The account of a prize fight a hundred years ago is certainly a curiosity nowadays. Therefore the following little article, printed in the London Times Nov. 30, 1804, and reprinted here, ought to make good reading:

"Plugillism." good reading:

"PUGILISM.

"The fight which we stated a few days since to be about to take place between Tom Belcher, brother to the champion of that name, and Billy Ryan, son of the late noted pugilist, was yesterday decided at Wilden Green, on the Edgeware road. A council was held among the gentry of the fists on Tuesday last, when the understanding regarding the purse to be fought for wes adjusted, and the champions agreed that the fight should take place yesterday instead of Monday next. The champions arrived at Wilden Green at 11 o'clock, when a ring was formed by the spectators, who greeted the tools of their amusement by loud cheers.—Belcher first, threw his hat into the ring over the heads of the spectators as an act of defiance to his antagonist, who received him into the ring with a welcome smile. Beicher was dreadfully beaten in comparison to Ryan, who had, nevertheless, some very uglr hits.—Jones and Whale seconded Ryan, and Belcher was seconded by Maddox and Norton. The fight lasted one hour and twenty minutes."

No Terrors For Gotch.

"From what I have seen of the jiu jitsu," said Frank Gotch, the champion wrestler, "I am free to say that it has no terrors for me, nor do I think it has for any American athlete. Of course, if you permit a jiu jitsu expert to take his locks as he pleases and then exert his strength he may do you damage or make you cry enough, the usual termination to one of their bouts, but if the map on whom the system is being demonstrated is permitted to defend himself, I have yet to see the Japanese who can agrouplish much while it promises to be a great battle, it is not attracting as much attention as the other recent big mills out that way. The fight will settle the question, of the bantamweight championship of America, but as there are a comparatively few fighters in the class one does not hear as much about them as in the heavier weights. Neil is picked as a winner by the coast fains because of his experience in the ring. Hyland will enter the ring for the first time as a professional but has a great record as an amateur fighter.

Wrestling Not Parlor Magic.

"We presume that the art of wrestling is taught not to serve as parlor magic, but for use in emergencies, when roughness will characterize the action required. Any rough and ready fighting opponent does not be a server of the control of the contr ness will characterize the action required. Any rough and ready fighting opponent does not usually attack a man from the front, leisurely, giving him an opportunity for an arm breaking clutch. He tries ordinarily to take his foe unawares, with a punch in the eye, or a jump on the back. Now, the American wrestler is to my mind better qualified than the Japanese jiu jitsu expert for the defense of his person in such circumstances, and I believe that in return he could work more harm than the foreigner. Any American fighter or wrestler will defeat a jiu jitsu expert of equal strength. At least, so I have found it."

"What, to your mind, would constitute a proper test of the two styles?" was

"Teddy" Murphy Still "Sore."

Ted Murphy, now in Chicago, believes that he will quit the fighting game. His experience with Battling Nelson has soured him.

"Nelson certainly put me in bad." Murphy said recently. "I easily convinced the authorities out there that Chicago was the place where he and I settled all our business and where all our dividends were declared. That was the spot we should have finished at when we decided to spill. I wanted to get Nelson away from some of the company out there, so started east and left him a hundred and a railroad ticket.

"Nelson should have had a draw in that Roth nem. Britt heid continually, and Roche, in breaking them, interfered with the winner of the fat. I think Nelson can beat him any day they fight now.

"I suppose Nelson will hook up with the winner of the next Britt-Corbett fight. Nelson must be worth fully $10,000. I think, right now. I guess he has it in a bank out there. It took me four years to put him where he is and about a week to have him put me where I am. That is what I am sore at. I suppose it happens to all managers of fighters sometimes."

"Well. granting that I had the time necessary to the work. I would asy let the not it wo the word all the still and build, as near alike a like the will aut they of equal strength and build, as near alike at its plot on for equal strength and build, as near alike the Japanese develop one and me the other. Then put the pair on the mat and see which one would cry enough first, all holds permitted. I'll make a big gamble rich here the Japanese develop one and me the other. Then put the bapanese develop one and me the other. Then put the bapanese develop one and me the other. Then put the bapanese develop one and me the other. Then put the bapanese develop one and me the other. The put alies the Japanese develop one and me the other. Then put the bapanese develop one and me the other. The put alies the Japanese develop one and me the other. The put alies the Japanese develop one and me the other. The put alies the Japa Try Hold Against Hold.

"If that sort of competition would not satisfy, then let the two men go on the mat and let the flu fitsu boy take his holds and have my man try to break them. Then let my man take his holds and have the flu fitsu expert try to loosen his zrin. Such a tournament between two well trained men would do a good deal to settle the fate of flu fitsu in America, one way or the other.

"The flu fitsu grabs, hitches, twists, clutches, and wrenches are pretty well known to the American professional athlete, who, while he has not employed them in his exhibitions, has realized that they are there to be used in the event of a fight to the death. But there is no use for them in ordinary athletics, and I question seriously whether they develop a man physically as much as catch as catch can wreslting indulged in conscientiously would. And when it comes to downright fighting and scrapping for life or death, the finished wrestler will make a show of the flu jitsu man."
